A White Christmas

THERE is one way to make a white Christmas even though there may be not a flake of snow in sight. Let the whiteness be in your heart. Put aside all thoughts of guile. Forget all the big or little bitternesses you may be entertaining against some other person. Cast out all envy, all covetousness, all unkindness. Endeavor to harbor in your heart only such thoughts and feelings as the Nazarene knew when he dwelt by Galilee. Cultivate human brotherhood. Practice Christian charity. Look beyond and above your workaday horizon. Get out of yourself. Get into the hearts of others. Then you will be sure of a white Christmas this year.

Mr Carnegie to Fight War.

Army and navy men who look on war as a "law of nature" and themselves as its chosen ministers will see nothing to praise in Mr. Carnegie's $10,000,000 fund, created "to hasten the abolition of international war." But if we could have a world-wide referendum, there would be an overwhelming vote in favor of the settlement of the controversies of nations, whether their material interests or there so-called "honor" were involved, in an arbitral court rather than on the field of battle. So even those who have only the faintest hope of the disappearance of war as a method of disposing of national quarrels will applaud the use of which Mr. Carnegie is dedicating a not inconsiderable part of his fortune.

The donor is optimistic. After the barbarism of war shall have been obliterated he wishes his trustees to consider what is the next most degrading remaining evil and attack that. And the war on evil is to be kept up from century to century until we have a flawless world. If the soldier would only bow to the wishes of the men who carry on peaceful pursuits and support him there would be no reason to look for a future war, but militarism is too strong to be overthrown in this generation or the next.

How the trustees will promote the cause of peace is unknown. Mr. Carnegie gives them the widest discretion. The character of the men he has selected is such that it would be almost an impertinence to lay down precise and narrow rules of conduct. Mr. Carnegie knows that they are in full accord with his main purpose and that is enough.

It has been suggested that a part of the revenues of the fund could be used profitably in a study of the causes of war. The historians have attended to that and it would be a waste of time to rewrite what they have written. A woman caused the Trojan war and women have been responsible for many wars since then. The warlike tastes of rulers, commercial rivalries, religious differences, land hunger—why recapitulate the innumerable causes of war? We know the causes and are seeking the preventive. If the Carnegie trustees can discover it great will be their fame.

There may be those who will call Mr. Carnegie a dreamer. They may say he could have made a more practical use of his ten millions—have given it for medical research, for the construction of model tenement houses, for the relief of the needy who are deserving of aid. But his dream, if it be a dream, is a noble one. Its realization would be the lifting of a crushing burden from humanity.

A Christmas Present That Means Something.

There is one especially good thing about a Christmas present of The Youth's Companion. It shows that the giver thought enough of you to give you something worth while.

It is easy to choose something costing a great deal more which is absolutely useless, but to choose a present costing only $1.75 that will provide a long year's entertainment, and the uplifting companionship of the wise and great, is another matter. There is one present however which does just that—The Youth's Companion.

If you want to know whether it is appropriate or welcome, just visit the home of some Companion subscriber on Companion day.

Do not choose any Christmas present until you have examined The Companion. We will send you free sample copies and the beautiful Prospectus for 1911, telling something of how The Companion has recently been enlarged and improved.

The one to whom you give the subscription will receive free all the numbers of 1910 issued after the money is received; also The Companion's Art Calendar for 1911, lithographed in twelve colors and gold. These will be sent to reach the subscriber Christmas morning, if desired.

You, too, as giver of the subscription, will receive a copy of the Calendar.

A Little Good Paint in Time Saves $$$

When your buildings need painting, every day's delay costs you money. Sun, rain, snow and frost are getting in there. Lumber costs too much to let it decay for want of a little paint.

It costs less to use good paint than to go without it. We use nothing but good paint on our work.

CARTER

Strictly Pure WHITE LEAD

Pure Linseed Oil, Pure Turpentine and the most expensive

The kind of paint we use on our work is the best in the world. It is the only paint that will stand up to the weather. Let us figure with you when you want to paint.

We guarantee a first-class and durable job. Don't let us down.
